LEVERETT'S LATIN LEXICON, P. NLARGED AND IMPROVED, compiled chiefly from the Magnum Totius Latinitatis Lexicon at Facciolat and Forcellini, and the German works of Scheller and Lucemann, embracing, also, the classical distinctions of words, and the Etymological Index from Freund's Lex words, and the Etymological Index from Freund's Lexicon.

The present edition of this standard and favorite Latin Lexicon has been much improved by the transfer to its columns of the classical distinctions of Latin words, as given in the Lexicon of Dr. Wm. Freund, of Germany, and translated by Riddle. The classical degree of each word is indicated by a figure; for example, a word without a figure is fully classical and Ciceronian; with the figures 1, 2, and 3, words are classical only in the first, second, &c., degrees; and this distinction the student perceives at a glance. The Etymological Index, also from Freund's Lexicon, has been incorporated into the present edition of Leverett, and will be found a valuable acquisition. While transferring these notes and marks, catalogues were carefully kept of the words found in each Lexicon, which were not found in the other. On comparing these catalogues, it was found that the value and importance of the additional words found in Leverett, so far as a knowledge of the Latin language is concerned, very far exceeds that of those found in Riddle's Freund. The extensive use of Leverett's Lexicon in all parts of the country, and the preference which has been universally given to it over all simillar works, render its recommendation superfluous; but attention to this new edition is respectfully invited, as being still more worthy than its predecessors of the distinguished favor which the work has hitherto received.

Mr. Robert Scars—Dear Sir: I have looked over the entire series of your valuable publications with much interest and profit; and am quite surprised at the amount of literary labor you have performed, and the research it must have cost you to obtain so many fine illustrations, while you have an active superintendence of an extensive business. I am also gratified at the decidedly moral and religious influence which your books will exert, and can for but hope that they will do much to counteract the effects of that light and immoral literature which deluges the land, and, like the frogs of Egypt, comes up even to the kneading troughs of our kitchens. May you live long to follow your plans.

Respectfully and sincerely, your obliged servant, Respectfully and sincerely, your obliged servant, EDWARD HITCHCOCK.
